Explanation

Application for lifelong learning credit for the Open Universiteit or another type of modular education

Re 1.3 Date of birth

You can apply for lifelong learning credit for the Open Universiteit or another type of modular education at a non-funded institution of education until the first day of the month in which you turn 55. If you cancel your lifelong learning credit after your 55th birthday, you will no longer be eligible for it.

Re 1.4 Nationality

If you do not have Dutch nationality, but you do have a residence document of type II, III, IV, V or Article 50, add a copy of this to your application (including a copy of the front and back of the residence document). If you have a type I residence permit, please check duo.nl to find out if you are eligible, and what you need to do.

Re 1.5 Bank account number

DUO deposits the lifelong credit only into your own bank account. Please note: you may not provide a savings account number.

Re 1.6 Address

Do you live in the Netherlands? Then enter the address at which you are resident according to the municipal register. Please make sure that you are registered with the municipality correctly. In other words, this must be the address where you actually live.

Are you planning to move house? If so, you will need to change your address in the municipal register. You can usually do this via the website of the municipality, using your DigiD. Your municipality will automatically inform DUO of your change of address. You do not need to inform DUO yourself.

If you are living abroad (temporarily) or are planning to move abroad, you have to send your (new) address details to DUO yourself. Foreign address details are not registered with municipalities within the Netherlands.

Re 2.1 Study programme

You are eligible for a lifelong learning credit if you participate in an accredited study programme within the Netherlands. You can ask the educational institution whether the programme is accredited.

Re 3 Lifelong learning credit

The lifelong learning credit is a loan intended to be used to pay your tuition fees. The loan is paid out on a monthly basis. The number of monthly instalments in which the credit is paid out, is determined by dividing the number of credits (ECTS) per study unit by five. For example, if you are participating in a study unit or module amounting to 15 credits, the lifelong learning credit will be paid in three monthly instalments (15 credits divided by 5). If the tuition fees due are € 1,200, in this example you will receive three instalments of € 400.

Until the study year 2020-2021, you had to apply for the lifelong learning credit before the start of the module. From the study year 2020-2021 onwards, you can apply for the lifelong learning credit as long as you are registered for the module. At the end of your study, you will repay the loan over a period of 15 years. When you are no longer entitled to a lifelong learning credit and DUO has received the date on which your enrolment is terminated, you start paying back the following year. DUO will send you notice a few months in advance.

Re 3.2 Amount of compensation

Indicate per study unit or module the amount of compensation that you receive from any other organization or individual to pay your tuition fees. If you do not receive any compensation, enter €0.

Re 3.3 Amount of lifelong learning credit

The maximum amount that you can borrow each year is the amount of tuition fees that you have to pay. If you receive a partial contribution towards these fees from another organization or individual, you can apply for lifelong learning credit for the remainder of your tuition fees only. Your application must always include an invoice from your educational institution showing the total amount of tuition fees due.
